The new standard for software update engineering

ISO 24089

- Published 8 February 2023

- Introduces software updates standardisation on a global level

- Sets the current state-of-the-art for automotive software updates

- Supports the fulfilment of UN R156 requirements, which will be required for selling software update enabled vehicles

Prove that your road vehicle software updates comply with ISO 24089 requirements

- Verify the ISO 24089 conformity level

- Create a compliant framework for your software update mechanism

- Ensure that any software updates are provided and executed safely and securely

Get in touch and receive professional third-party support

TÜV SÜD

How can TÜV SÜD support you?

- Understand the requirements of ISO 24089

- Identify compliance gaps and provide suggestions on how they can be closed

- Assess conformity to verify your software update mechanism and processes are compliant

- Ensure your processes are suitable and provide a sustainable software update mechanism